Texas Sporting Gossip

By H. H. Shelton.

The Chicago White Sox have completed all arrangements for the spring training at Mineral Wells. The manager, prefers this inland Texas town, far away from the evil influences of the city, in order that his men may have nothing to divert their minds from the training period. Hospitality is not desired when men are trying to get into shape for a fast season of play. Mineral Wells is noted for its medicinal waters and its healthfulness and this is what is desired for the baseball players.

McGraw Coming December 1.
John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, will be in Dallas December 1. He is coming to Texas to complete his arrangements for training at Marlin, Texas. The New York Nationals now own their own training grounds at Marlin and propose to make Texas their permanent training quarters. A club house will be erected and other improvements put on the land. The training quarters are near the medicinal springs. The way matters are lining up now it looks as if Texas would entertain more big league teams this spring than any state in the union.

Adams Makes Good.
Catcher Adams, owned by the San Antonio team, but farmed out to the Victoria team of the Southwest Texas league during the past season, has made good with the Detroit team. During the past season series he caught a number of the games and showed he was in fast league class. He is a youngster with all sorts of time in which to make good and his friends in Texas are predicting for him an exceptionally brilliant career in the league company.

Effort to tie the score, not unlike the Cubs in their Saturday game. But the best they could get was two and the game ended two and four.
Olmstead a Winner.
Olmstead pitched for all his 100 pounds were worth and he worked right up to the last of the last. With the sun in his eyes he would take a squint at the catcher's signals, wind up and shoot the ball right over, much to the distress of the opposing batters. Harries pitched for the Cheyenne club and presented an equally formidable collection of curves. Both pitchers worked hard and deserved a winning game to their credit. Olmstead was invincible at times and was always in command.

Cheyenne Looks Good.
Cheyenne continues to look good for a contender in the finals of the fair tournament. The pitchers are all good and the fielding is of the hit and run variety. Everything was snap Sunday and the game was finished before 5 o'clock. Bart Thraill killed in left field and on short, made the two distinguishing plays of the game. Graham caught Thraill's long fly in the fifth and threw to the plate in time to catch Lyons going home from third. This required quick thinking and accurate throwing, both of which Big Bart had. Thraill ran almost out of the field after Olmstead's fly and caught it up against the fence.

By winning the Sunday game El Paso clinched the series having won two games and the others were ties.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS GAME WHILE INSTITUTE LOSES AT FOOTBALL

Saturday Games In Juarez Show Great Benefits From New Open Play.

Unable to stop line bucks and prevent the execution of forward passes, the football team of the El Paso Military Institute was defeated Saturday by the fast A. and M. team of Las Cruces, by a score of 12 to 0, but following the El Paso high school retrieved, and in a fast, snappy game, defeated the Douglas high school by a score of 37 to 0.

The double header, played at Cow-boy park in Juarez, was attended by a large crowd, and, although the day was rather warm for the fall sport, enthusiasm was not lacking. The grid-iron was slow, the three inches of dust preventing fast playing, but there was some satisfaction in the fact that falls were not considered dangerous after an accident occurred to mar the two games.

That the new rules have eliminated the mass plays, wherein the greatest danger to the players lurked, and that the play is much more open, as a result of interference being placed under the ban, was thoroughly demonstrated. The forward pass was used with varying success by all four teams, but it redounded to the credit of the El Paso high school more than the other teams.

Considerable kicking of the ball marked both games and was responsible for much of the open play.
Use Mass Plays.
Under the coaching of A. H. Badenoch, a Chicago military veteran, the A. and M. college has a fast team, and that Badenoch could not resist teaching his players the effectiveness of the old mass plays, was seen. Although minus the interference, rushes through the Military Institute line were made almost at will. The A. and M. team also utilized the forward pass.

No Score in First Quarter.
The first quarter of the game ended without a score, but in the second quarter, Kirkpatrick, of the A. and M., carried the ball over the line for a series of line bucks. Blaine kicked the goal. Score 6 to 0.
In the third quarter, Blaine, for the A. and M., on the kickoff, dropped the ball behind the line. It was returned a few yards and the institute held for downs. Was forced to kick. The ball being put in play by a scrimmage. Boat, left end for the A. and M., crossed the line for the second touchdown. Blaine again kicked the goal. The score was equal, although the A. and M. team again carried the ball across the line. The play was called off, however, owing to an off-side play by an A. and M. man. The institute then took a brace and prevented further scoring.

High School Wins.
The El Paso and Douglas high school teams took the field immediately upon the conclusion of the first game, and a fast exhibition of ball was then presented. Chenoweth, at quarter for El Paso, running the team like a demon. End runs, forward passes, line bucks and kicks always being unequal to the Douglas team being unequal to the occasion, allowed the score to run up to 37 to 0. Lyman made the first touchdown for El Paso, but Grady failed to kick goal. The Kuhn next carried the ball to the Douglas line and Ronan ploughed his way through for a touchdown. Lomax failed to kick goal.

Douglas Shows Form.
Douglas occasionally showed flashes of form, R. Ames, right half, being in this class. After Ames made a 25 yard run, forward pass, the Douglas line and Ronan ploughed his way through for a touchdown. Lomax failed to kick goal.

El Paso Boy Is Making Good AT TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE IN FOOTBALL AND IN COLLEGE WORK

Up at the A. & M. college an El Paso boy is making more than good as a football player. He is Tommy Dwyer, and there is no more popular youngster in the college than he. He has been playing over a regular season of regular Texas team, and his work has been equal to that of any man who ever played the position. So far this season he has taken a leading part in every game.

Strong, active and with a steady head, he plays a game both brilliant and fearless. There is no place too tight for him to try to enter. For himself he never seems to have a thought. When the game begins he is absorbed, and it is Dwyer's daring which marks him as a great player. With the coming seasons if not this year, he is expected to be one of the greatest players in Texas. Many think that his work this year will enable him to classify for the all-star southern football team which is picked by experts at the end of the football season.

Dwyer is also making good in his studies as well as other athletic pursuits and is held in high esteem by both faculty and his fellow students.
Last Year's Men Strengthened Team.
The strategy of the University of Texas team this year is largely due to the fact there are several of the best men of last year on the team. Among the old stars are Bart Moore, who was runner for his success in Texas last season; Leonard, a valuable utility man of last year; Ramsdell, who comes from a family of famous athletes and who is a brother of Fred Ramsdell, most noted punter Texas ever turned out and who is now making a great reputation at Pennsylvania; Spoons, a freshman of last year; Persons, who is proving a valuable line man this year; Massingill, goal line, where it was recovered. Kuhn was then called on to make the third touchdown. Chenoweth kicked goal. Score 12 to 0.

In the second quarter Douglas kicked off, but Hoover was not long in making the fourth touchdown for the locals. Chenoweth, however, failed to kick goal. Score 21 to 0. Douglas again kicked off, and Chenoweth, getting the ball after a few plays, steamed away for the goal. Ronan failed at goal. Score 26 to 0. Douglas again kicked off and Kuhn made another touchdown. Lyman failed at other goal. Lyman failed at goal. Score 31 to 0.

The Final Score.
In the third quarter of the game, Chenoweth made another touchdown, and then a safety was added to El Paso's score, making a total of 37 to 0. Owing to darkness the last quarter of the game was called off.
Ballard, Caldwell, the high school coach, deserves considerable credit for the team, and there are several of the players that showed more than ordinary class, especially Chenoweth, Kuhn and Hoover.

MAVERICKS WIN THE SATURDAY CONTEST

Take Cheyenne Into Camp by Score of Six to Three In a Fast Game.

El Paso 6, Cheyenne 3, is the way the Saturday game at Washington Park roads and for the reason for the Indians' defeat may be laid at the door of the pitcher Cavet, who gave three bases on balls in the fifth inning when there were already two out.

Ables, Flick and Jackson all got free passes and Graham started things with a three bagger to deep left center, scoring the three men ahead of him. In the following inning the Mavericks added two more tallies to their score and made it a total of six, having scored one in the first round.

Cheyenne got on in the fifth, when with Thraillkill on third, Cavet sent a hummer to left scoring him. Again in the eighth the visitors took the bit in their teeth and scored two more. Galena laid one down in front of the plate and died at first. Hester knocked one through Ables and made first; Gault walked and Hester went to second; Lyons hit through second and scored Hester; Gault was caught napping on third; Gibson hit through second scoring Lyons, and Thraillkill fanned.

It was a pitcher's battle in which Ables put it all over the man who is going to Detroit for he made a monkey of some of the batters, striking out 12 and allowing only six hits.

Cavet allowed but four hits, but he gave six bases on balls and struck out only five men. Ables made him look like 30 cents when he came to bat, following his long hit, for the big fellow put three straight ones over the pan and had the Cheyenne man stepping back from each one. He never even got a swipe at the ball.

Despite the fact that many scores were made the game was fast and filled with sensational plays throughout.

PHILADELPHIA SUPREME IN WORLD OF BASEBALL

Takes Four Out of Five Games From the Chicago Players and Wins the Championship Pennant—Young Blood Pitted Against Older Men, Wins, Hands Down, In World Series.

(By N. M. Walker.)

By right of conquest, Philadelphia holds the world's championship in baseball.

Youth triumphant was returned victory in the final game of the world's series Sunday before a crowd at the west side park in Chicago, a bunch of men who could not have been less than 100 years old.

They had been attending their own individual funerals. Hope deferred refused to offer the solace that it did during the early part of the series. The Mackmen, the youngsters and veteran players, used to be put off longer. They took the fifth and final game of the series and returned home to an ovation which in comparison made Caesar's triumphal entries into Rome read like a pauper's funeral.

They won beyond any attempt at explanation, excuse or controversy. The final game was the result of the operation of the old adage which tells what happened when an irresistible force meets an immovable body, except that the much touted immovable body sagged, gave a few inches and then allowed the irresistible force to pass on its way rejoicing. Against such an odds as Philadelphia did in the world series no club in the world could stand up, for all signs, signals, omens and second sight readings fall when the batter throws his bat into the plate box, dusts his hands on the ground and slashes viciously at the ball for two bases or better. That was what happened Monday at Philadelphia. It was the program of the day on Tuesday, Wednesday was a holiday for the players, and Thursday was as favorable for the predestined champions, but the cold weather put a kink in their game getting machinery and they dropped one Saturday after a ten inning contest.

Chicago's Day of Doom.
But hope was short lived for the Chicago contingent. As warm as a spring day, Sunday proved the day of doom—and gloom—for Chicago. A run in the first put a kink into the hope-against-hope game and even when Chicago tied it in the third the handwriting on the bleacher fence would not be dimmed. Another for Philadelphia in the fifth and then the slaughter in the eighth, when five runs were slipped over. The Phillies had come into their own and there was not one to question their absolute right to the flag, which they carried back for the Philadelphia folks when they left Chicago Sunday night.

To the victor belongs the spoils, but to the conquered goes the lion's share of the praise for games. In a battle that was a lost cause from the announcement of the battering on the first day, Chance's men went down fighting like men. There was not a minute that they showed a sign of quitting. Not once was there a question about their tactics; they were taking the drowning man's chance and their
